Dr.ssa Eszter Lukacs

IEEE Client Services Manager Europe

How to get published with the IEEE?

Abstract: Increase the visibility of your research and build author credibility by publishing in a leading IEEE journal or conference. Learn how to identify the best journal or conference for your work and navigate the IEEE paper submission and peer review process. Review the required elements and proper structure of a manuscript to avoid reasons why papers may be rejected.

Eszter Lukács is Client Services Manager and works with IEEE Xplore Digital Library customers located in Europe and Israel. She has more than ten years experience in the information industry and has joined IEEE in 2013. She offers free online or on-site seminars mainly about IEEE Xplore Digital Library and trains the user communities, including librarians, engineers, researchers, students and faculty. Eszter supports initiatives and information needs of IEEE Student Branches. She gained her Magister degree in Linguistics from the Humboldt-Universität zu Berlin; she speaks German, English, and Hungarian and is based in Berlin, Germany.
